'Third force' by Vijayadashami: KCR

In a major push to forming a third force, Telangana CM holds talks with Deve Gowda

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

Telangana Chief Minister and patriarch of Telangana Rashtra Samithi (TRS) K Chandrashekhar Rao (KCR) and former Karnataka Chief Minister HD Kumaraswamy have announced that the third force as an alternative to the BJP and Congress will take concrete shape by Vijayadashami (October 5) this year.

In a major push to forming this alternative force, KCR called on 89-year-old former Prime Minister HD Deve Gowda at his residence on Thursday afternoon for a luncheon meeting followed by a closed-door interaction which included the ex-PM's son Kumaraswamy and grandson Nikhil Kumaraswamy.

Sources present at the closed-door meeting said, "broad-minded discussions" on wide-ranging topics pertaining to political developments across the country were discussed among the four.

Apart from that, KCR and Gowda are said to have discussed the developments in Karnataka over the last six months, especially about the communalisation and polarisation happening in the state.

"We exchanged views on various topics of national importance. It was a candid and cordial meeting," Gowda said after the meeting.

KCR, on arrival, clasped Gowda's right hand with both of his own and bowed his head in reverence while Kumaraswamy, grandson Nikhil and the others looked on even as the Telangana CM presented the former PM a bouquet. KCR was accompanied by TRS Rajya Sabha member Santhosh Kumar, besides MLAs Jeevan Reddy, Jajula Surendra, Krishnamohan Reddy and Rajendra Reddy. Noted actor-turned politician Prakash Rai alias Prakash Raj's was also present as he has been working closely with the TRS lately, sources said.

While Gowda, who has good equations with Prime Minister Narendra Modi, appeared to be his own self, Kumaraswamy seemed more excited by the proposition of the third alternative force. CONTINUED ON: P5

'SUPERSTITIOUS' PEOPLE LIKE KCR DO INJUSTICE TO PEOPLE OF TELANGANA: PM

Hyderabad: Prime Minister Narendra Modi who was addressing BJP party activists at the Begumpet airport on Thursday in an indirect attack on Telangana CM K Chandrashekhar Rao referred to him as a "superstitious" person. This, he said, would do a lot of damage to society and also render injustice to the people of the State. in this era, it is astonishing that people are steeped in superstition. Such people can never deliver justice to people. Telangana too has such people. Modi also recollected his days as Gujarat CM. P5

Centre calls off BPCL privatisation process as most bidders back off

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

THE Centre on Thursday withdrew its offer to sell its 52.9% stake in Bharat Petroleum Corporation (BPCL) after most of the bidders expressed their inability to go ahead citing the volatile conditions in the global energy market.

"The multiple Covid-19 waves and geo-political conditions affected multiple industries globally, particularly oil and gas industry. Owing to prevailing conditions in the global energy market, the majority of Qualified Institutional Investors (QIP) have expressed their inability to continue in the current process of disinvestment of BPCL," said a notification by the Department of Investment and Public Asset Management. A decision on re-initiating the strategic disinvestment process will be taken in due course based on how the situation evolves, it added.

The government had issued the expression of interest (EoI) for strategic disinvestment of BPCL in March 2020. However, due to global pandemic and other geopolitical tensions, it had to extend the EoI submission date multiple times.

According to reports, only three bidders - Vedanta group, Apollo Global Management Inc. and I Squared Capital Advisors - have shown interest in buying BPCL. Among these, only Anil Agarwal-led-Vedanta was in the race as the other bidders reportedly walked out over lack of clarity in fuel pricing.

It may be recalled that Vedanta Group's chairman, in one of his interviews had said that his company was willing to spend $12 billion for the deal.

BPCL's current market value is around $11.4 billion. It owns 19,000 petrol pumps, 6,166 LPG distributor agencies and 61 out of the 260 aviation fuel stations in the country. It has 26 assets in Russia, Brazil, Mozambique, the UAE, Indonesia, Australia, East Timor, Israel and India. The buyer will get 35.3 million tonnes of refining capacity -- 12 million tonne Mumbai unit, 15.5 million tonne Kochi refinery and 7.8 million tonne Bina unit.

ED files fresh PMLA case against Maha minister Parab

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mumbai

THE Enforcement Directorate (ED) on Thursday raided multiple locations of Maharashtra transport minister Anil Parab and others as part of a money laundering probe linked to alleged violation of coastal regulation zone norms in the construction of a resort in the Dapoli beach area of Ratnagiri district.

The ED conducted the raids for more than 12 hours at properties linked to the minister in Mumbai, Pune and Konkan. Parab is a close confidant of Maharashtra chief minister Uddhav Thackeray.

The agency has filed a fresh case against Parab under the criminal sections of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act. His role was already being probed by the ED in another money laundering case against ex-Maharashtra home minister Anil Deshmukh.

Anil Parab

Commenting on the raid, Anil Parab said the resort belongs to one Sadanand Kadam and he has nothing to do with it. The resort is alleged to be releasing untreated sewage water into the sea.

In another development, the CBI arrested Avinash Bhosale, chairman of Pune-based ABIL group, in a corruption case involving Yes Bank's Rana Kapoor and DHFL's Kapil Vadhawan.

ED chargesheets DKS under stringent money laundering Act

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

THE Directorate of Enforcement (ED) has filed a prosecution complaint (PC) against the Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) President DK Shivakumar and others under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), 2002 before a special court in New Delhi in a 2019 case against the Congress stalwart. According to informed sources, the court, after taking cognisance of the complaint and the investigation conducted by the ED, will now frame charges and the trial will commence thereafter .

Reacting to the development, Shivakumar said, "I have not done anything wrong. I have full faith in the courts and in the legal system. Besides politics, what else is there in the chargesheet?" he asked.

The chargesheet has come at a time, when the Congress party is gearing up for Karnataka Assembly elections in 2023 and the polls for four seats in the Rajya Sabha next month, where Congress and the BJP are expected to fight for the fourth seat.

Shivakumar is getting battle-ready to play a key role in both the elections as the KPCC President.

"Depending on the trial, the court may acquit him or hold him guilty. In case of acquittal his assets that have been provisionally attached by the adjudicating authority under Prevention of Money Laundering Act will be released," said informed sources. CONTINUED ON: P4

"Provisions under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act are also penal provisions. Under this, the court can impose punishment of imprisonment. CID grills ADGP Paul in PSI recruitment scam

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

The former police recruitment chief in Karnataka, Additional Director General of Police (ADGP) Amrit Paul was on Wednesday and Thursday questioned by the Criminal Investigation Department (CID) in connection with the infamous police sub-inspector recruitment scam in which around 60 people including two police officers of the rank of Deputy Superintendent of Police (DySP), one inspector, other police personnel and 22 candidates, who had cleared the examination have been arrested.

Paul was ADGP, Recruitment, when the examinations were held in October last year for the post of 545 PSIs. Over 54,000 candidates had appeared for the examination across Karnataka. When asked, Paul told The New Indian Express, that the "CID wanted to understand the whole process of police recruitment; from notification to declaration of results. On Wednesday, the Director General of Police, CID had requested me to explain the entire process to the investigating team," said the ADGP. He added that he had spent a couple of hours on Wednesday evening and Thursday with the CID. "They may call me again because recruitment is a complex process and they need to understand it properly to take the investigation forward," said Paul. He was transferred and posted as ADGP, Internal Security Division (ISD) after the scam broke out.

KERALA MODEL

Cong to adopt Left's 'bucket collection'

RICHA SHARMA @New Delhi

FACING massive funds crunch ahead of the big fight for 2024, the Congress is looking at the Left's Kerala model of fund-raising where bulk of the party funds are collected from the masses through door-to-door campaign with slips issued against donations.

The idea, suggested by former KPCC chief Ramesh Chennithala, was discussed in detail at the recently held Udaipur Chintan Shivir. "It is being considered seriously. There are some issues, such as how it can be implemented, how to ensure funds management and transparency etc. It will be discussed at the Task Force 2024 meetings," party sources said.

According to an audit report submitted to the Election Commission, the Congress party's income plunged 58% in FY21 to ₹285.7 crore, from ₹682.2 crore in the previous fiscal. In FY19, the party's income was ₹918 crore.

The Congress is facing acute pressure on the money front, especially after the demise of party treasurer Ahmed Patel, who used to handle party funds through his corporate and other contacts. Madhya Pradesh Congress chief Kamal Nath has been also handling funds generation but earnings have nosedived in the Modi regime.

Most of the CPI(M)'s funds come from its Kerala unit and there is a joke in party circles that the central party survives on funds from the southern state.

The general rule for the party is that 70% of funding must be from door-to-door mass-contact funding drive, known as 'bucket collection'.

Bengal proposes to make CM chancellor of Univs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kolkata

THE West Bengal cabinet on Thursday approved a proposal to appoint Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee as the chancellor of all state government universities

"Today, the state cabinet gave its consent to the proposal to make the chief minister the chancellor of all state-run universities in place of the governor. This proposal will soon be introduced as a bill in the assembly," State education minister Bratya Basu, who tabled the proposal before the state cabinet, said.

A member of the cabinet said a bill would be introduced in the Assembly to change the chancellor of state universities. "Once the bill is passed, it will be sent to the governor's office for his approval to amend the change as an act. If there is no nod from the governor, an ordinance will be promulgated to amend the change replacing the governor from the key post." West Bengal governor Jagdeep Dhankhar and Mamata have been at loggerheads over a range of issues.

Last year, a row erupted over suggestions that the governor be replaced from the titular post of Chancellor of state-run universities in West Bengal.

Dhankar alleged that the state government was making appointments to the vice-chancellor post in various universities without consulting him, and he is being forced to take a strong view of such developments.

Tamil Nadu government last month adopted two bills to curb the governor's power to appoint vice-chancellors to 13 State universities. In Kerala, a row erupted last year when the state governor Arif Khan complained of political interference in the appointment of vice-chancellors to state-run universities.

CRYING FOR ATTENTION

5 yrs, 4 CMs later, Kempegowda centre still unborn

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

FIVE years after its foundation laying ceremony and four chief ministers later, the Kempegowda Research Centre at Jnanabharathi Campus of Bangalore University is yet to see the light of day.

Since 2017 — when the foundation stone was laid — four Chief Ministers and three governments have changed, but nothing has happened on the ground to realise the project for which Rs 50 crore was sanctioned by the state government through the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP).

The initiative was taken by the ministers from the dominant Vokkaliga community when the Congress was in power in the state under Siddaramaiah's chief ministership, and the delay in taking it forward has not gone down well with the community leaders in Congress as well as the ruling BJP.

Sources said the issue is set to come up for discussion ahead of Kempegowda Jayanthi celebrations on June 27.

The proposed centre entails a building with architectural aesthetics from the outside, 1500-seating capacity air-conditioned mega auditorium, a museum space including a digital section, exhibition hall, board rooms, seminar halls and many more. It was even planned to include rainwater harvesting and solar lighting in its design, besides a pond representing Nadaprabhu Kempegowda's construction of tanks in Bengaluru during his regime.

But none of it has materialised. The foundation laying ceremony was done by Sri Nirmalananda Swamy of Adichunchungiri Mutt in September 2017.

Presently, there is a Kempegowda Centre for Humanities and Social Science under Bangalore University. But it does not have its own building, instead it works out of another department.

IN a clear sign of the aviation sector beginning to breathe easy in a post-Covid world, Kempegowda International Airport (KIA) recorded a 96.6% surge in flyers in April, compared to the same month last year, reveals data released by the Airports Authority of India (AAI). A total of 22,55,393 domestic as well as international passengers used Bengaluru airport last month, bringing relief in terms of patronage, as the airport completes 14 years.

The airport was thrown open for operations on May 24, 2008.

Statistics reveal that only 11,47,061 flyers had taken off or arrived in Bengaluru in April last year. This forms part of the healthy overall trend in passenger boom with 2,43,41,467 having travelled through airports across the country in April this year, compared to 1,24,62,723 in the corresponding period last year, marking at 95.3% passenger growth.

Out of those who took to the skies last month, 1,95,521 were international passengers, almost a three-fold increase last April, while 20,59,872 were domestic passengers, up by 91.7 per cent over last April. Trends at KIA and other airports across India indicate that this financial year is set to be a good one for the aviation industry.

KIA has emerged as the best performing airport in terms of growth of passengers in Karnataka. The rush inside the airport has become a matter of much online criticism since last month, with the hope that the launch of Terminal 2 by the end of this year would reduce congestion.

As per data, Delhi and Mumbai airports continue to hold the top two positions in air travel in April this year, with 49,24,992 and 30,63,147 passengers respectively. Bengaluru stands third, and Hyderabad is playing catch-up with 16,25,233 flyers.

Bengaluru airport gets green award

Bangalore International Airport Limited, which operates Kempegowda International Airport, was honoured with the Green Airport Recognition 2020 Platinum by the Airport Council International (ACI). BIAL won the award in the 15-50 million passengers per annum category, for its outstanding achievements in carbon emission management. According to an official release, BIAL consumes nearly 100% renewable electricity (70 Mn units) leading to largely Zero Scope 2 emissions (greater than 50,000 Metric Tonnes Carbon reduction). BIAL also won the 'Golden Peacock Award for Sustainability 2021' for its ongoing efforts to minimise carbon emissions and improve sustainability of its daily operations.

Indira Canteen will keep its name

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

AMID demand from a section of BJP leaders for changing the name of public Canteen in Bengaluru Municipality limits, the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike Finance Commissioner Tulasi Maddineni has said that Indira Canteen's name will not be changed.

Addressing the Press, following allegations that bills of contractors supplying food and managing the canteen, are yet to be cleared, Maddineni said that bills will be settled and said that the Palike has already settled bills of two of the agencies.

Other bills will also be cleared based on the BBMP Marshall's deployed at canteens and their inputs, he said. "Marshalls get exact details of daily supply and collection, and whatever difference of amount has come, that will be examined and orders for the same have been passed.

Based on the direction from former BBMP chief, Gaurav Gupta, bills up to 4 months till April 2020 have been settled. Last week, orders have been passed and bills for May (2020) will be cleared.

She said that last week, the budget for BBMP has been cleared and the process for works at zonal level can be taken up. "The Commissioner has signed implementation orders. The officials at zonal level can list works, go for tenders and issue job code," she said.

The commissioner also informed that with Iskcon supplying food to poura karmikas and government schools, the BBMP made a proposal to hand over the canteen to same organisation for supplying food and the proposal is sent to Urban Development Department.

She said the Iskcon has quoted Rs 78 for food per person but discussions are underway to reduce it. At present, the food is supplied at Rs 55.30 per person. "The rate compared to 2017 and 2022 is definitely up, but we are charging the rates as per 2017. No extra amount will be charged and breakfast at Rs 5, lunch and dinner at Rs 10 is fixed," she said.

Compensation for rain damages given

BBMP has received 3,011 applications for rain-related damage claims. All the applicants except 476 which have IFSC code issues have been given the amount. Chief Minister Basavaraja Bommai, after inspecting the city following heavy rain to assess the damages, has announced compensation of Rs 25,000.

She also spoke on the storm water drain wall collapse incident which happened two days ago and said that at Kalidasa Layout in Bengaluru South, the Technical Vigilance Committee has given its initial report.

BDA clears Bellandur of silt, dumps in quarries

YACOOB MOHAMMED @ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING concern and complaints from villagers of Mylasandra and Vittasandra in Bengaluru South Assembly segment about roads becoming non-motarable and extremely dangerous for travelling, MLA Krishnappan M flayed Bengaluru Development Authority's (BDA) lake silt and Metro construction debris clearance drive. He also gave a representation to BDA to stop dumping lake silt and debris into quarries of Mylasandra and Vittasandra.

He told TNIE, "We are not objecting to dumping of silt and debris in the quarry in our limits, but are worried about roads. Gram Panchayat members of Mylasandra and Vittasandra noticed that trucks filled with silt and debris have damaged roads and now has set a condition that the agency fix them. The same was communicated to BDA Chairman SR Vishwanath. BDA trucks were stopped from entering in mid-April."

According to engineers, Bellandur lake has about 20 lakh cubic metres of silt in 900 acres of lake area. "So far, only 30 per cent of silt has been cleared. If the MLA or villagers had permitted, 60,000 to 70,000 tonnes of silt would have been cleared. Daily, 60 to 70 trucks have to clear lake silt and each truck has a carrying capacity of 10 to 15 tonnes of silt, and makes at least three trips a day," said an engineer.

Apart from lake silt, the Metro construction debris was also ferried from different pars to Vittasandra quarry and that too have been hit.

BANGALORE University is all set to auction jackfruits grown on its campus to the general public on May 31. The university has invited people to take part in the auction which will take place on Jnanabharati campus on May 31.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

27th May: I was reading about the Full Moon recently, and its associations with werewolves and mad happenings, or so the legends tell us. I think that one reason for all those stories about the Moon is the amount of light it gives. Of course, you may not notice from the city, but out in the country the Moon is a brilliant sight.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The Moon's entry into a lively region of your chart should come as a welcome relief. You could feel more in control of home and family affairs than may have been the case in the recent past, although financial matters remain dodgy. But I am sure you can live with a little uncertainty.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
This is very much a time to be have like a true Taurean - resolute, responsible and keen to retain all that is best from the past. However, please be very aware that at particular moments you will be obliged to compromise. Don't worry - it shouldn't hurt!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
There does seem to be a real chance that the emotional strain of the current times will have an adverse effect on your health. Bearing in mind that astrology deals with prevention rather than cure, don't let this week's stress get to you. Why not take some time off to pamper yourself!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Your lunar alignments remind you of the importance of professional activities and ambitions. In some strange manner, work may be away for you to provide yourself with emotional security, or a real feeling that you have a genuine role in the world.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
A number of long-term commitments may have come under increased scrutiny, but that's no reason to walk out on a responsibility. It may be more useful to you to stick around for a while and see what can be worked out. Stay with it and you'll eventually come up trumps.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Mercury is still exerting a powerful pull over your sign, and will do so for another eight weeks. This is an indication of celestial protection which should see you recover from current battles and pass unscathed through the next two months' worth of ups and downs.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Although the celestial challenge from Mars to the Sun is placing you under personal pressure, others are barking up the wrong tree if they imagine they can out-manoeuvre you. Conciliation is the key - and that's no trouble for someone like you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
A family or domestic matter may be settling down, but professional Scorpios are not out of the woods just yet. Remember one piece of vital advice: a good general never starts a battle that can't be won. Pick your ground, choose your time and don't make a move until you're ready.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Personally and emotionally, things are likely to remain uncertain, partly because others are vacillating and unwilling to make a decent commitment. Even those who do make arrangements are liable to break them! You'll have to make allowances for unreliable friends.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
If you use finances as a bait, you could be taking a big risk. Either other people may accept you at face value, or you may let yourself in for commitments you can't keep. As far as I can see, you will put home and family first - and build your life on firm foundations.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Venus, lady of love, is approaching a single degree of your solar chart which denotes your relationships. You should therefore feel only optimism for the future, no matter what current events suggest. You're probably more popular than you imagine!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Self-knowledge is a Piscean speciality, and you have a rare understanding of what must be done. Deep down you know that the time has come to sever one particular tie or association and concentrate on another which seems to have more meaning. You're operating on your instincts at the moment, so some caution is required.

IN POLL YEAR, CASE CAN BLUNT CONG ATTACK

Shivakumar claims that he is being targeted; ED files charges three years after 2019 raid and arrest

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CONGRESS leader D K Shivakumar, who termed the ED chargesheet a "political conspiracy", is likely to face a number of hurdles in the run-up to the 2023 elections.

"I have not done anything wrong; I have full faith in the courts and legal system," he told reporters. He claimed he had heard of the chargesheet from the media, and had personally not received a copy. Asked what it contained, he sarcastically remarked, "Besides politics, what else is there in the chargesheet?"

Politically, the chargesheet could deliver a body blow to the Congress aggression in the run-up to state polls, with the party seeking to target the BJP as "corrupt" but will now have to play cautiously. Political analyst BS Murthy said, "The timing is perfectly aligned with the run-up to the state polls. Headlines from the DK Shivakumar case chargesheet will compete with corruption scandals of the PSI selection, and other scams which have embarrassed the government."

Claiming that he had been targeted for helping late Congress General Secretary Ahmed Patel during the latter's election to the Rajya Sabha in 2017, Shivakumar recalled how the BJP had "nakedly attempted" to poach Congress MLAs from Gujarat. The party leaders were upset that he had kept them in a safehouse in Bengaluru Rural district, out of their reach.

Shivakumar had kept them safe before Patel's elevation to the Rajya Sabha, but they were subsequently poached. He said the raids took place soon after that. "My friends and I were targeted, and they tried to pass off money belonging to others as mine. This is the price I am paying for helping Ahmed Patel." Patel had gone on to won the cliffhanger poll.

The timing of the chargesheet is also suspect, as the state goes to polls in about nine months. "The BJP government vindictively abuses constitutional institutions to sabotage its opponents. I have been filing my income-tax returns every year, but the case was given to the CBI. The then Advocate-General had himself maintained that this was not a case worthy to be investigated by the CBI," he said.

The chargesheet should have been filed within the stipulated 60 days of arrest. But since it was not filed, Shivakumar had got bail. "They are filing it now, after three years. When BJP has not spared its own partymen, will it spare me? They want political opponents to surrender, or will finish them off." Asked about ministers CN Ashwath Narayan and Sunil Kumar saying that Shivakumar will go back to jail, he said, "I will not respond to anyone's statement."

THE sources added, "If the prosecution is able to satisfy the court and is able to prove that his assets are proceeds of crime and the court holds him guilty, then it can order that the attached assets be given to the government."

Section 4 of the PML Act — on offence of money laundering — states that "whoever commits the offence of money laundering shall be punishable with rigorous imprisonment for a term, which shall not be less than three years but which may extend to seven years and shall also be liable to fine, which may extend to five lakh rupees," the anti money laundering law states.

As per Section 8(3) of the Representation of the People Act, 1951, if a person is convicted of any offence and sentenced to an imprisonment of two years or more, this will be disqualification to contest elections.

Whether an adverse court order would stall his political career is however, not clear. "In case of an adverse sentence from the trial court the accused has every right to go in appeal against an adverse order by the trial court before the appellate court and try and get a stay on his conviction and the operation of the order of conviction," said informed sources.

Shivakumar was on September 3, 2019 arrested by the ED, New Delhi, under the PMLA in connection with alleged tax evasion and hawala transactions. He was enlarged on bail on October 24 the same year.

Remove Rohith Chakrathirtha from panel: Cong

Mangaluru: Dakshina Kannada Congress president Harish Kumar on Thursday urged the BJP government not to saffronize the education system and instead focus on providing democratic education. Addressing the media at the district Congress office, he said that the government was creating confusion by dropping texts on Narayana Guru, Bhagat Singh. "The education minister is saying that they have removed texts from the Social Science book on Narayana Guru of class 10 and added it to the Kannada language subject to class 7. Language is a choice hence many students will not read about the social worker. We condemn this decision of the government and urge not to include matters related to any one political party," he said. "The government should stop poking its nose in the education system and ensure that children are not affected. The government should focus on improving the infrastructure in educational institutions. The government lied that the texts on Narayana Guru, Bhagat Singh were not dropped. If this was true, why were the texts added for some other class?," he asked. He demanded removal of Rohith Chakrathirtha from Karnataka School Textbooks Review Committee.

There is no rift in BJP, says Kateel

All BJP leaders will work together in the election to ensure the victory of party candidates, said Kateel who expressed confidence of the party winning all the four constituencies in this election. Ministers Govind Karjol and Shashikala Jolle, former minister Ramesh Jarkiholi and others were present.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

ON the day when Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai is expected to return to Bengaluru from the World Economic Forum (WEF) in Davos on Friday, Vidhana Soudha is likely to wear a deserted look as the secretariat staff is going on a strike.

Over 5,000 staff members at Vidhana Soudha, Vikas Soudha, MS Building (that houses offices of secretaries of various departments), including those working at ministers and senior IAS officers' offices, have decided to stay away from work on Friday to register their protest against the government for allegedly scrapping certain posts at the secretariat.

Speaking to The New Indian Express, Guruswamy, President, Karnataka State Secretariat Employees' Association, said the government is planning to scrap over 500 posts, including those of junior assistants, despite resistance from the employees. Also, the government is hiring retired staff on contract basis, depriving young people of employment. "Without scientific study, the government is cutting down the staff strength," he said.

Guruswamy said more than 5,000 employees from Group D to Special Secretary (senior KAS officer cadre) have decided to abandon work on Friday. This includes staff hired on contract basis too.

He claimed the protest is being supported by Karnataka Government Employees Association, Karnataka Assembly Secretariat Association and Karnataka Council Secretariat Association.

Chief Secretary P Ravikumar, in a circular, said the bandh called by the association is illegal. The state government has taken the issue seriously and is directing everyone to attend office on Friday. "Inspite of this, if they take leave without informing their seniors, it will be considered as Dies-On (no work, no pay)" he warned. He also warned that disciplinary action will be taken against those who fail to come work on Friday.

Hitting back, Guruswamy said, through the circular, the Chief Secretary is trying to curb the rights of the employees. "Many memorandums have been submitted to him. But he has not bothered to respond," he alleged.

DK Suresh urges CM to take up polls for farmer societies

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BANGALORE Rural MP D K Suresh has written to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai urging him to ensure that elections are held to farmer societies, or Krishik Samajas.

In his letter, Suresh said Krishik Samajas have been carrying on with elected representatives, who were elected about 13 years ago when the BJP was in power during 2008-2013.

He said legitimate elections need to be held because it will enable them to set up systems that are necessary for the farmer groups to function.

"Farmer groups that are struggling to avail of facilities, such as friendlier loans and better markets will continue to suffer for want of a proper platform to redress their grievances. And if the government ensures that elections are held, these issues can be redressed," he wrote.

₹50cr sanctioned five years ago

IN 2017, the then Congress government initiated Kempegowda Research and Study Centre, which was a joint venture between BBMP and Bangalore University, while the three-acre land at Jnanabharathi campus belongs to Bangalore University, for which the sum of Rs 50 crore was sanctioned.

Prof Shaik Masthan N, who also heads the centre, said a Bengaluru-based company had designed the structure which was presented before many dignitaries and got an approval. "The land identified had 34 eucalyptus trees. After more than a year, we got the approval from the Forest Department to cut the trees. But that was not the end as shrubs grew in their place. Since then, we have called JCB to clear the shrubs and maintain the land," he said.

He further said that in 2021, when BS Yediyurappa was Chief Minister, the state government initiated construction work and conducted pooja.

The BBMP had called for tenders twice and finally a Bengaluru-based company was selected as the bidder in 2021. But even today the work order has not been issued. "When we ask the BBMP, they point to the Urban Development Department, which in turn points to the CM's office. We are academicians, we do not know how it works. But I am not happy with the delays," Prof Masthan said.

Cong treats Siddu as adopted son: Ibrahim

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mysuru

JDS state president C M Ibrahim has charged that the Congress treats Opposition leader Siddaramaiah as an adopted son. Ibrahim, a close associate of Siddaramaiah, said all is not well in the Congress camp and the grand old party's culture can't be changed.

Launching the election campaign of JDS candidate Ramu from the South Graduates constituency here, he said the BJP rule will end in nine months and former chief minister H D Kumaraswamy will return to the chief minister's office. "My prediction about H D Deve Gowda becoming Chief Minister in 1996 and Siddaramaiah in 2013 had come true," he reminded people.

"The JDS is like a family that has an emotional bonding across the state. The party has every strength to take any decision but the same is not possible by Narendra Modi nor Sonia Gandhi. Deve Gowda knows the pulse of the state and knows which crop should be grown but Modi is unaware of things. It's unfortunate that there is rampant corruption in the government contrary to the Prime Minister's claim of na khaunga na khane dunga (neither I will take bribe nor allow my colleagues to take the same)," he said.

Siddu to go into '23 battle as Kuruba commander

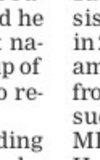
DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

LEADER of the Opposition Siddaramaiah, who is likely to switch back to Old Mysuru region from Badami constituency for the 2023 assembly polls, is keeping many options open, including Tumakuru.

On Saturday, a Kuruba community event is likely to provide him an opportunity to emerge as the unquestionable leader again, as in 2013, which had catapulted him to the CM's gaddi. This time, he has kept both his political friends and foes guessing about which constituency he is likely to pick in 2023.

It is an open secret that Siddaramaiah will be in the race for chief minister if the Congress gets a majority -- his supporters at a recent event in Tumakuru insisted on it, and he agreed by clarifying that national politics is not his cup of tea, and that he wished to remain in state politics.

His supporters, including former MLA K N Rajanna, who had played a key role in the defeat of former prime minister H D Deve Gowda during the 2019 Lok Sabha polls, feel that Tumakuru is a safe bet for him. Former MLC Ramesh Babu observed that Chikkanayakanahalli is not safe for Siddaramaiah, as the narrative is likely to go against him.



"Chikkanayakanahalli is a backward class bastion. We insist that he contest from there in 2023," said Huliyaru Siddaramaiah, a former ZP member from the constituency. Leaders such as former Chitradurga MP Chandrappa and former Hosadurga MLA B G Govindappa agree, and say it will help candidates in adjacent constituencies.

During the 2018 assembly polls, former minister T B Jayachandra's son T J Santhosh of the Congress had garnered over 33,000 votes in Chikkanayakanahalli, which had indirectly helped Law Minister J C Madhuswamy defeat JDS candidate C B Suresh Babu, a Kuruba leader. Now, even Jayachandra is inviting Siddaramaiah to contest from here, as it will help him too in Sira assembly seat, which he lost twice consecutively, including the bypoll.

Siddaramaiah had lost Chamundeshwari and won Badami, though by a slender margin, in 2018, and his son Dr Yathindra had won from Varuna.

PM DEDICATES ₹31K CR PROJECTS IN TN

Says Centre committed to popularise Tamil language, developing nations need to stress on infrastructure

T MURUGANANDHAM @ Chennai

SHOWERING encomiums on Tamil language and culture as he had done many times before, PM Narendra Modi, while dedicating Rs 31,530 crore worth of projects at a function held in Chennai on Thursday, promised that the Centre is fully committed to popularising Tamil language and culture and helping Sri Lankan Tamils.

Sharing the stage with PM at the function held at Nehru Indoor Stadium a year after being elected as CM, M K Stalin expatiated about an all-inclusive Dravidian Model, the asymmetry in financial relationship between the Centre and TN, retrieving Katchatheevu, assent for the anti-NEET Bill, and the need to give Tamil language the status on a par with Hindi.

The CM said, "Our State is a pioneer, not only in economic and other related factors but also in social justice, equality and women's empowerment. Tamil Nadu is a state for inclusive growth. I believe that our Hon'ble PM is aware that TN's contribution is critical to India's development and Union government's fiscal resources. TN's share in India's GDP is 9.22%. In the Centre's tax income, TN's share is 6%. Therefore, Centre must increase its contribution to schemes and fund allocated to the State."

Starting his speech by greeting the audience with 'vanakkam' in Tamil, the PM did not respond directly to the CM's demands. Inaugurating a few projects and laying foundation stone for railway, highways, petroleum and housing projects, the he said "it is always wonderful to be back in Tamil Nadu."

Giving a detailed account of how the projects dedicated by him would be beneficial to the people, the PM said, "When I talk about infrastructure, I refer to both social and physical infrastructure. History has taught us that those nations which gave topmost importance to infrastructure made the transition from developing to developed countries. The government of India is fully focussed on building infrastructure that is top quality and sustainable."

"The NEP gives special importance to promoting Indian languages. TN youngsters will benefit from this," he said.

Modi's takes jibe at 'superstitious' KCR

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Hyderabad

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi who was addressing BJP party activists at the Begumpet airport on Thursday in an indirect attack on Telangana CM K Chandrasekhar Rao referred to him as a "superstitious" person. This, he said, would do a lot of damage to society and also render injustice to the people of the State.

in this era, it is astonishing that people are steeped in superstition. Such people can never deliver justice to people. Telangana too has such people. Modi also recollected his days as Gujarat CM. "When I was the CM of Gujarat, I was often told not to visit a particular city as I would be dethroned if I did so. But I never believed in such superstitious tales. I visited that city again and again."

Modi then went on to compare Uttar Pradesh CM Yogi Adityanath to KCR in a veiled manner. "Though Yogi Adityanath comes from an ascetic parampara, he is a sant & sanyasi... He mingled freely with SCs, farmers and the poor, which is why he has been elected for the second time. He banks on science and technology. Similarly, if the BJP comes to power here, it will turn Telangana into a technology hub."

The message PM Modi was keen on conveying was obvious -- Yogi Adityanath wasn't a superstitious leader and that he was close to the aam aadmi.

THE latter even stated that the new alternative force that KCR is trying to shape up is necessary to "save the country".

KCR arrived at the Gowda residence in South Bengaluru at 1.20 pm, after which the meeting over lunch and after continued until 4.45 pm. It was after the meeting that KCR and Kumaraswamy addressed the media outside to announce the Vijayadashami deadline—the first time that a deadline has been set for the third alternative force, which is planned to include a range of regional like-minded parties including TRS, Aam Aadmi Party, Trinamool Congress, Samajwadi Party, among others.

However, KCR said: "Do not expect now for any sensational news ... wait for 2-3 months ... There is going to be a change at the national level, and none can stop it. India will change. It has to change. We have to rise above the 'isms'..."

Meanwhile, one source privy to the closed-door meeting, informed that Presidential elections also came up for discussions, during which KCR is said to have asked Gowda to take the lead for the alternative force. He reportedly also suggested his candidature for Presidential elections as the incumbent President, Ram Nath Kovind's term ends July end. However, sources close to top JDS leadership denied it.

They were to brainstorm on the possibilities of knowledge sharing by ISRO. This will upgrade healthcare in 11 hospitals across the country in handling emergency care and critical care departments to reduce mortality rates.

The doctors released the pre-intervention data of 11 hospitals that were studied for over a year in collaboration with Association of Healthcare Professionals of India (AHPI) and Society for Emergency Medicine in India (SEMI).

The survey kept nine key performance indicators (KPIs) which included the time taken from the door to triage by the nurse to door to lab investigations ordering time. For instance, "Medium values which were found across all the sites for door to triage (nurse) were in the range of one to 15 minutes. The mean value of time taken from initial assessment to see the doctor was about 6 minutes to 33 minutes across these hospitals," explained Dr R Jitendra, who worked on the QUEST study .

The post intervention study leveraging space technology will now be used at these hospitals in two areas -- emergency care and critical care departments – to see how best they can be changed and handled "error free" reducing mortality numbers.

Listing out the areas of cooperation, Dr Alexander Thomas, President, AHPI, proposed a collaboration with ISRO on geo-mapping of an accident and emergency centres, in order to have accurate information on the type of services and level of care available in the healthcare facilities.

Petroleum traders won't buy stocks on May 31

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Akhila Karnataka Federation of Petroleum Traders has announced that it will not buy stocks from oil companies like Bharat, Indian, Hindustan Petroleum on May 31 to protest over the loss of 1,600 crore following the Centre's decision to slash excise duty. According to the president of the federation, KM Basavegowda, the federation always welcomes whenever petrol and diesel prices are reduced. "We have already lifted stocks and the reduction of excise duty on petrol is Rs 9.50 and Rs 7 on diesel. We cannot ask customers to pay, and hence have to incur losses," said Basavegowda.

However, customers will not be inconvenienced as the stock fuel will be available.

He further added that decision against purchasing, which would result in losses to the government, is only a token protest, and if the government does not compensate, the traders may shut the bunk.

80% of leukemia patients can be cured

SHILPA P @Bengaluru

THE incidence of blood cancer or leukemia has gone up by 20 to 30 per cent over the past decade, and around 1 lakh people, including around 23,000 children, are diagnosed with the disease every year in India, while around 70,000 succumb to it.

Haemotopoietic stem cell transplantation (HSCT) treatment brings hope of a complete cure for 80 to 85 per cent of patients. But in India, only 20 to 30 per cent of patients who need HSCT find a Human Leucocyte Antigen (HLA) matching sibling donor. Finding the perfect match is rare in India.

Registering as an HSCT donor can give a second chance to a leukemia patient. Of 39 million donors registered worldwide, only 5 lakh are Indians, said Dr Sunil Bhat, Director and Clinical Lead, Paediatric Haematology, Oncology and Bone Marrow Transplantation, Mazumdar-Shaw Cancer Centre and Narayana Multispecialty Hospitals, Bengaluru.

He said leukemia cases have gone up due to better diagnosis, change in lifestyle and diet, pollution, smoking and alcohol. At least 10 to 15 per cent of kids and 30 to 40 per cent of adults need blood stem cell transplant treatment, Dr Bhat said.

Proud saviours

It was a proud moment for 17-year-old leukemia survivor Ansh Ravindra Jadhav and six blood stem donors – Dr Smitha Joshi, Kishore Ramji Surani, Suresh Verma, Sunil Narayan, Jitesh Kanchan and Praphul R. They converged at the World Blood Cancer Day event organised by DKMS-BMST Foundation from different parts of the country.

NIP HATE AND PROTECT KERALA'S SECULAR SOUL

Hate speech is a handy tool for politicians but a dangerous one to wield. Former MLA P C George has now landed behind bars for delivering hate-filled dialogues targeting Muslims. Two PFI workers were arrested recently on charges of indoctrinating and encouraging a minor boy to shout slogans warning of death to Hindus and Christians during a rally in Alappuzha. These are two of the latest instances in Kerala's rising trend of exploiting communal feelings to further divisive agendas. In November last year, Pala Bishop Mar Joseph Kallarangatt was booked for saying that non-Muslim youths in Kerala were being lured using 'love jihad' and 'narcotic jihad'. Sangh Parivar leaders K P Sasikala and T G Mohandas, and Muslim scholar M M Akbar were also booked recently for provocative speeches.

While extremist religious elements are busy spreading hate, there have also been instances that stand testimony to Kerala's track record in communal harmony and its secular character. Last month, the Vishnu Narasimha temple near Tirur in Malappuram district was in the news for hosting an Iftar party for Muslims. The media also reported about J R Ajith, president of a temple trust in Alappuzha, and Prabhakaran, a Malappuram-based Hindu businessman, who have been observing the Ramzan fast for years. These reflect the real soul of Kerala. After all, it's a state where social reformer Sree Narayana Guru led a renaissance movement and preached 'One Caste, One Religion and One God for Human'. Any attempt to corrupt that soul needs to be nipped in the bud.

What the government did in the P C George hate speech case and the Alappuzha hate sloganeering incident should be the norm. The Alappuzha case has also exposed how extremist groups have started indoctrinating children to serve their vested interests. The state has the right to stop attempts by religious organisations to corrupt the minds of kids. Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan's promise that his government wouldn't allow Kerala to become a place where anyone can say anything should be delivered in letter and spirit to safeguard Kerala's secular credentials.

STATES' FIGHT FOR FINANCIAL AUTONOMY

In a sign of growing rancour between New Delhi and the states—particularly those under non-BJP governments—over collecting, apportioning and utilising tax resources, Chief Minister M K Stalin on Tuesday launched a broadside against the Centre, accusing it of imposing an economic crisis on state governments by taking away their rights. The trenchant criticism comes just days after the Supreme Court held that the GST Council's recommendations are not binding and both the Union and state governments have simultaneous powers to legislate on the Goods and Services Tax (GST).

Incidentally, Tamil Nadu and a few other states have already rejected the Union finance minister's exhortation to reduce VAT on fuel after the Centre's excise duty cut of ₹8 per litre on petrol and ₹6 per litre on diesel. The TN finance minister said that value-added taxes are calculated on ad valorem basis and any cut in fuel price by the Centre will automatically reduce the revenue generated by states under VAT. State governments, though endowed with a greater responsibility compared to the Centre to answer people's yearning for welfare, have only a few avenues left to generate resources. Indirect taxes, the states' traditional and autonomous revenue source, have also been lost to a single, nationwide GST. Against this backdrop, states, particularly those ruled by non-BJP parties, face huge political compulsion to assert their rights to generate and utilise more revenue for schemes they deem fit. Political rhetoric such as 'double-engine growth' made by the PM, implying that the BJP-led Centre will be more than willing to share its largesse with states ruled by the party, has widened the chasm between the Centre and states.

The new SC order may have given the states the legal ammunition to ratchet up their fight for financial autonomy. The once-in-five-year Finance Commission envisaged under the Constitution may not be good enough to address the dynamic financial needs of the states or address their grievances expeditiously. The need for a formal National Development Council-like politico-administrative authority where CMs and the PM can meet and iron out wrinkles from time to time has never been stronger than it is right now.

Identity is a shifting target and is therefore difficult to pin down. Its awareness begins with the fundamental question "who am I?"

USING IDENTITIES TO VANQUISH ENMITIES

PRADIP PHANJOUBAM

Editor of Imphal Review of Arts and Politics

SOUMYADIP SINHA

Nobody can doubt the power that the notion of identity commands. It has been the cause of so much civil unrest and even wars the world over. India is no stranger to this, and the Northeast is a cauldron of identity frictions. Identity is also a shifting target and is therefore difficult to pin down. Its awareness begins with the fundamental question "who am I?", indicating a perception of distinctiveness of the asker from others.

Marooned on an island for years, Robinson Crusoe did not even need his name, until one day he came across footprints on the beach which he knew were not his. His self-awareness transformed. He tried to be friendly with Man Friday, the footprint maker, and was reciprocated, but it could have been otherwise. Identity is a matter of choice. Judith Butler in Precarious Life suggests a way of taming the potential for violence in the question "who am I?". This is to rephrase it as "what would I be without you?". All the others, from which the "I" perceived itself as distinct, are now given a new importance, for they are seen as having contributed to making the "I" that the asker values so much. Even adversaries would have had a part in the shaping of every "I".

Identity is a matter of choice indeed, and this could not have been said better than Amartya Sen did in Identity and Violence, where he argues that everybody has multiple identities and that peace and conflict will depend on which of these a community chooses to give primacy to. Once upon a time, India acknowledged its immense diversity and placed this primacy on a constitutional identity. Today there is an obvious drive to change this and the results are new anxieties over imposition of a single national language, hierarchical stratification of religious identities, etc.

The reality is that many of these values that command people's passion—identity and religion included—are fictional creations. So many scholars have said this, not with any intent to disparage them, but as a statement of fact. Jeremy Rifkin in The Empathic Civilisation for instance calls religion, tribe, nation, etc., fictions created by humans. Likewise, Benedict Anderson calls the nation an imagined community. However, arguably it is Yuval Noah Harari in Sapiens who articulates this idea most interestingly.

Beside linguistic ability, the one quality that lifted Homo sapiens to an altogether different orbit on the evolutionary ladder is acquisition of the power of imagination, and with it the ability to create fictions and organise themselves around these creations on scales never known and reached earlier. It is not certain how this came to be, but it does seem to have happened by an extraordinary mutation in the neurological circuitry of the human brain. Harari says this provided the vital spark that ignited what he calls the Cognitive Revolution about 70,000 years ago.

The Cognitive Revolution in essence gave humans the power of fiction. The ability to build bonds and communities of very large scales around these fictive creations gave them an unprecedented advantage in their fight for survival over the rest of the animal kingdom.

Take the case of religion. Once upon a time, before the Cognitive Revolution, when Homo sapiens were no different from other primates, there would have been no religion. Humans, quite unlike them, have created several religions as it suits them in imagining how they and the world they live in came about and what might be their ultimate fate. They can even believe in a life beyond death. But try explaining this to a dog or cat: that if they misbehave, they would be miserable in the next life. This would help us realise how exclusive this power is to humans.

> Identity is a matter of choice, and this could not have been said better than Amartya Sen did in Identity and Violence, where he argues that everybody has multiple identities and that peace and conflict will depend on which of these a community chooses to give primacy to

The fictions they thus create have in fact become a rich part of their reality, determining the shape of their lives and politics. Indeed, fuelled and motivated by their fictions such as religion, ethnicity and nationhood, they have achieved scientific wonders as well as brought about nightmares of wars upon themselves.

No other animal can do this. Wolves hunt in packs and elephants roam in herds, but these bonds are determined by instinct and only in circles within sensory perception. It can never, in any sense, enter the space of abstract realities that only exist in our realm of imagination. There can never be, for instance, a mass movement by wolves for the rights of wolfhood, or dogs for doghood.

Yet, nobody can dismiss identity, ethnicity or national affiliations as nothing more than fictions. Though they are indeed fictions, they are now much more. In their own ways, they are as real as any reality can be, capable of awakening strong passions of love and hate as anything real can.

The positive note is, though they command real passion, since they no doubt are fictional creations of humans, they should be amenable to changes and evolution too. And without our knowing it, they indeed have been changing. Inherent characters of nations, religions, ethnicities, etc., have always been in a constant flux, and these changes often happen during a lifetime and in full scrutiny of everybody. In time's eternal progress, enemies have turned friends and vice versa too in never-ending cycles. Ethnicities and identities have transformed, and quite inevitably too. So it should not be impossible for any society—more specifically those afflicted by internal conflicts—to seek to eliminate frictions pertaining to ethnic and religious affiliations, by broadening the very definition and understanding of these notions as situations demand.

WHEAT EXPORT BAN, FOOD SECURITY & PUBLIC HEALTH

HARINDER HAPPY

SHIVAM MOGHA

PhD scholars at Jawaharlal Nehru University, Delhi

The recent developments regarding the international trade of Indian wheat has sparked a debate about India's export policies. Besides the economics of the export ban move and India's foreign policy, the public health perspective should also influence decisions regarding the trading and distribution of agricultural products. The remarkable study Hunger and Malaria Epidemic in Colonial Punjab by Shiela Zurbrigg provides us with evidence that fluctuation in prices of foodgrains can occur due to changes in climatic conditions. International prices have a direct impact on food availability. It affects the household economy and even impacts the spread of diseases, which can lead to epidemics as well.

British epidemiologist Thomas McKeown argued that nutrition and environment play a significant role in determining the health of the individual and society. The fundamental difference between food security and nutrition security is that food policy not only focuses on meeting nutritional needs but also cares about healthy and diversified diets. Apart from this, food that is easily affordable and available in a timely manner strengthens the immune system of the body.

India ranks 101 on the Global Hunger Index (GHI) among 116 countries. NFHS-4 data shows that every fifth child under the age of five in India is wasted, and 7.5% of children in this category are severely wasted. Covid-19 has further reduced the immunity of people. The Food and Agriculture Organisation (FAO) report 2018 stated that India houses 195.9 million of the 821 million undernourished people globally, accounting for approximately 24% of the world's hungry. The prevalence of undernourishment in India is 14.8%, higher than both the global and Asian average.

Shiela Zurbrigg attempted to link malaria deaths with the rising foodgrain prices in 24 districts in the plains of colonial Punjab from 1868 to 1940. Zurbrigg used the variables of malaria deaths, foodgrain prices, wage rates for landless labourers and rainfall patterns. She argued that the higher prices of the foodgrains hurt the landless labour class that couldn't afford it, which led to higher malaria mortality rates. The unseasonal rains, floods and droughts in these areas of Punjab aggressively decreased wheat production in the region. Due to this, the landless labourers had to face the problem of hunger and acute starvation. Since the farm labourers were given a particular share of crop production as their income, they started getting less or no claim.

In the wake of the global commercialisation of agriculture, the functioning of the Karachi seaport, expansion of the railway network in north-west India, and the need for Indian wheat in the western countries altogether increased prices in the international market. And this had a ripple effect on the Indian markets too, leading to a rise in the price of foodgrains here. Among all the sections of society, the farm labourers were most vulnerable in this situation. The taxation policy of the British Raj also affected the landless labourers. This led them to accumulate debt and they were compelled to reduce their expenditure on foodgrains. Ultimately, this resulted in them facing acute starvation, which made them more susceptible to malaria.

> Rice has never been a staple food of Punjab, and the irony is that the rice crop covers the largest fertile area in Punjab. Earlier, the landless labourers were dependent on the farmers for their food. Hence, the idea of 'Gram Swaraj' got diluted when landless labourers got dependent on the markets. Rice alone couldn't strengthen the immune system, making a person more prone to diseases

In the current scenario, the Ukraine-Russia war initially encouraged India to sell its wheat in the international market at higher prices. The prime minister also made big promises of 'feeding the world'. While making these commitments, the government did not take the situation of domestic food security into consideration.

Private traders took advantage of this and purchased wheat at a much higher price than state-declared prices, i.e., MSP, which is ₹2,015 per quintal. The critical point here is that since the private traders were offering higher prices, farmers did not sell their wheat to government agencies like the Food Corporation of India; instead, they pledged it to private players who were offering around ₹2,500 per quintal. Meanwhile, the rates of Indian wheat were increasing in the international market.

The rates of wheat atta have witnessed a rapid increase of 9.15%. In a nation where around 40 crore people live below the poverty line, more than 50% of its population is being provided subsidised food. It is hard for that section to purchase the food at even a slightly higher price. On a disappointing note, when the inflation rates are at their highest level, some economists are suggesting that the government should provide cash in place of delivering food under the Public Distribution System (PDS). This ignores the fundamental question of how the poor will purchase the food at higher prices.

Since the Green Revolution, state incentives have forced Punjab farmers to grow rice on most of their land. Before this development, Punjab farmers grew multiple crops, including millets, cereals, oilseeds, sugarcane and vegetables. Besides the lack of diversification in farms, the Punjab population also lacks diversity on the plate. Rice has never been a staple food of Punjab, and the irony is that the rice crop covers the largest fertile area in Punjab. Earlier, the landless labourers were dependent on the farmers for their food. Hence, the idea of 'Gram Swaraj' got diluted when landless labourers got dependent on the markets. Rice alone couldn't strengthen the immune system, making a person more prone to diseases.

The government should give bonuses to all those farmers who have sold their wheat or are yet to sell it. This bonus amount should follow the international prices. It will not only help the farmers but will also the government in the long run. If the government fails to procure the wheat now, private players will sell it to the government and public at much higher prices.

Above all, nutrition and food security is essential to prevent disease outbreaks. There should be sufficient food stocks with the government, which is possible through state procurement.

Opportunity for Centre

Jammu Kashmir Liberation Front (JKLF) leader Yasin Malik has been given life imprisonment after he pleaded guilty to terror funding charges before the court. The verdict should be a wake-up call for other terrorists who create law-and-order problems in the Valley. This judgment can offer hope for the Centre's Kashmir policy. The government should seize this opportunity and hold fruitful talks with all groups.

Justice to Pandits

There is justice at last after the NIA court gave life imprisonment to terror promoter Yasin Malik. He took the lead role in the Kashmiri Pandit killings, acting on the behest of his Pakistan masters. It is amusing that Malik pleaded guilty to the charges and had the temerity to say that he followed Gandhian principles of non-violence.

Danger of instant justice

This is with reference to the editorial A watershed in attempts to curb fake encounters (May 26). There have been recurring instances in our country where the police have been killing people before they have even been proved guilty. This dangerous phenomenon of instant justice cannot be justified under any circumstance. Who will watch the watchmen?

Another setback for Cong

The exit of Kapil Sibal, a high-profile minister in the Manmohan Singh government, is another setback for the Congress. This comes soon after Sunil Jakhar and Hardik Patel quit the grand old party during and after the Chintan Shivir. The dynamic young politician who opposed the BJP tooth and nail might now join the saffron party. This shows that the Chintan Shivir was an utter failure. The ruling BJP is facing the issue of inflation across commodities and this gives an opening for the opposition. But as long as the Congress does not take some concrete steps with regard to leadership, the party cannot shine in 2024.

Govt schools get 'happy' feedback

National survey finds most students of govt schools like going for classes and feel safe

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

IF you believe only private schools can draw kids, think again. More and more children across the country are beginning to join government-run schools from class III to 10th, says a government survey.

As per the latest National Achievement Survey (NAS), released by the department of school education and literacy under the Ministry of Education, most children — 94% of them — feel safe in government schools. A flipside exists, though: only 18% mothers of most such children are "unable to read and write."

The NAS report released on Thursday covered over 34 lakh children studying in classes from III to X in 720 districts from rural and urban areas. However, 76% of these children have access to digital devices for learning purposes at their homes. In different states, 48% of the total 34,01,158 children walk to their schools from their homes.

A senior official of the Ministry of Education said 89% of these children said they share the lessons with their family members. Only 51% of those children have access to magazines and other reading materials at their homes.

The last NAS survey was conducted in 2017. For the NAS 2021 report, the questionnaires involving students, teachers and schools were prepared in 22 languages.

3 decades on, ambitious police networking plan still limping

CHANDAN NANDY @New Delhi

THREE decades and two technological upgrades after it was conceived in 1989, the Union home ministry's ambitious POLNET (Police Network) project, a satellite-based wide area network for modernising police telecommunication, today covers only six states and two Union Territories even as the initial plan was to cover all police stations across the country.

Union Home Secretary Ajay Kumar Bhalla was briefed about POLNET and its slow progress during his visit to the DCPW's CGO Complex office here on May 25. This was followed by a meeting on May 26 when DCPW Director R K Siddhartha briefed senior MHA officials about the project status.

Conceived as far back as 1989, POLNET, which was to have been commissioned in 1998, was designed to connect all the police stations with a secure and integrated satellite communication network.

According to the Directorate of Coordination Police Wireless (DCPW), the project is an "amalgamation of different VSAT technologies".

Officially launched in 2002, POLNET was supposed to connect India's then 11,502 police stations and the central paramilitary forces through a satellite-based communication network. Bharat Electronics Ltd won the contract for setting up the VSAT-based satellite network but, according to sources, failed to "move forward".

By 2007, only about 2,500 police stations were connected by POLNET. According to a home ministry assessment at that time, POLNET equipment and gadget installation was not possible across 6,000 police stations on account of difficult terrain.

When the home ministry felt the need for an upgradation, a new request for proposal – for POLNET 2.0 – was chalked out. A Bangalore-based MSME, ADTL won the contract in 2019. In January 2020, ADTL put in place a "basic network" and subsequently "over 800 VSAT terminals".

ADTL MD Col (retd) H S Shankar said POLNET 1.0 was "total chaos", but now communication is "faster". "The project is advancing satisfactorily," he said.

Sources said that besides bureaucratic feet-dragging, the other reasons for the delay in linking all the state police forces has been due to hostile terrain conditions and the ever increasing number of police stations.

APEX COURT RECOGNISES SEX WORK AS PROFESSION

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

IN a significant step providing legal protection to sex workers and recognising sex work as a "profession", the Supreme Court has directed police forces in all states and Union Territories not to initiate criminal action against adult and consenting sex workers.

The court said that sex workers have the right to live with dignity notwithstanding their "profession".

"Sex workers are entitled to equal protection of the law. Criminal law must apply equally in all cases on the basis of age and consent. When it is clear that the sex worker is an adult and is participating with consent, the police must refrain from interfering or taking any criminal action. It need not be gainsaid that notwithstanding the profession, every individual in this country has the right to a dignified life under Article 21 of the Constitution," said a bench of Justices L Nageswara Rao, B R Gavai and A S Bopanna.

Issuing a slew of directions, the bench said the constitutional protection that is given to all individuals in this country shall be kept in mind by the authorities who have a duty under the Immoral Traffic (Prevention) Act, 1956.

Any sex worker who is a victim of sexual assault should be provided with all facilities available to a survivor of sexual assault, including immediate medical assistance, in accordance with law, also stated the court. The court further ordered that sex workers should not be "arrested or penalised or harassed or victimized" during a raid in any brothel as "voluntary sex work is not illegal and only running the brothel is unlawful".

"It has been noticed that the attitude of the police to sex workers is often brutal and violent. It is as if they are a class whose rights are not recognised. The police and other law enforcement agencies should be sensitised to the rights of sex workers who also enjoy all basic human rights and other rights guaranteed in the Constitution to all citizens. Police should treat all sex workers with dignity and should not abuse them, both verbally and physically, subject them to violence or coerce them into any sexual activity," the bench said.

The apex court passed the directions on recommendations of a panel formed for the rehabilitation of sex workers.

The apex court was hearing a plea that has raised the problems faced by sex workers due to the Covid-19 pandemic.

Landmark judgment. Court states 'the attitude of the police to sex workers is often brutal and violent. It is as if they are a class whose rights are not recognised'

I applaud the Supreme Court decision in favour of sex workers. In order to usher a new India, it's our job as citizens to ensure no group gets left out

Abhishek Singhvi, lawyer and politician

What court told print and electronic media

The apex court also said the Press Council of India (PCI) should be urged to issue appropriate guidelines for the media to take utmost care not to reveal the identities of sex workers, during arrest, raid and rescue operations, whether as victims or accused, and not to publish or telecast any photos that would result in disclosure of such identities. "Besides, the newly introduced Section 354C of IPC, which makes voyeurism a criminal offence, should be strictly enforced against electronic media, in order to prohibit telecasting photos of sex workers with their clients in the garb of capturing rescue," the SC said.

Soon, visitors can 'immerse' in history & heritage at site museums

PARVEZ SULTAN @New Delhi

THE Archeological Survey of India (ASI) has decided to take a giant leap towards converting museum visits into an interactive and immersive experience. The agency will redesign and upgrade all 52 site museums across states, including prominent facilities such as Fort George Museum (Chennai), Archaeological Museum (Purana Qila, Delhi) and 1857 Residency Museum (Lucknow), as per international standards and practices.

As part of the plan, the display scheme of artefacts will be reworked and gallery plans will also be revived to make them attractive and more informative as the agency has also proposed to add information plaques and interpretative panels.

Under the mega renovation exercise, innovative illumination and technology will be introduced besides arrangements for unhindered access to differently-abled visitors and putting adequate disaster management measures.

They (museums) should present collections to people in the context of the site in the most interesting manner and engage the visitors

ASI official

Officials aware of the development said the ASI has started looking for an agency which will conceptualise, plan, design and carry out content development of the museums.

As per the bid document seen by this news paper, the selected agency will also monitor the execution of the work. The ASI is also developing several new museums as per the internationally acknowledged practices and adapting newest digital technologies being used by several museums abroad, for interactive museum experiences.

The officials said that as the archaeological museums are facing new challenges, museums around the globe are transforming and striving to innovate and remain socially relevant.

"They should present collections to people in the context of the site in the most interesting manner and engage the visitors. Keeping this scenario in mind, the ASI has planned upgrade and refurbishment of its site museums," said officials.

Multilingual brochures and high quality documentation in digital format will also be prepared.

THE CBI on Thursday conducted searches on the properties of R K Anand, a former MP and former working chairman of the National Games Organising Committee, across several Jharkhand towns besides Delhi and Patna.

Besides Anand's properties, the search operations, which were spread over Ranchi, Dhanbad, Bokaro, Godda and Dumka districts of Jharkhand, also covered the residential and office premises of P C Mishra who was the then Jharkhand sports director, S M Hashmi, organising secretary for the National Games Organising Committee and Madhukant Pathak, the then Jharkhand Olympic Association treasurer.

Documents seized during the course of the searches were being scrutinised, a CBI statement said. The CBI registered a case against Anand and other accused persons on April 11, in compliance of the Jharkhand High Court before taking over investigations into the case related to the 34th National Games held in Ranchi in February 2011. This case was previously registered by the Jharkhand government's Vigilance Bureau.

'Remove discriminatory kirpan norms in flights'

CHANDIGARH: Terming it a "discriminatory rule", the National Commission for Minorities (NCM) has written to the Union Ministry of Civil Aviation requesting it to initiate necessary action for allowing Sikh passengers boarding international flights for domestic travel to carry Sri Sahib (kirpan) as per the standard permitted size allowed on other domestic flights.

Explaining the problem being faced by some Sikh travellers, NCM chief Iqbal Singh Lalpura said when an international flight lands in Delhi and it has to proceed to Amritsar, those boarding here are not allowed to carry the kirpan as international flight rules apply.

He said once the flight has landed in Delhi or any other airport in the country, it should be treated as a domestic flight in terms of those boarding it to go to another destination within the country and allow that person to carry the kirpan as it is allowed on domestic flights.

In another letter to Railways Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw, Lalpura said the NCM received a petition from one Jaswinder Kaur and a few others regarding a request for one-minute halt of trains passing through Kiratpur Sahib in Punjab's Ropar district. ENS

SC set aside Delhi High Court stay on probe into Sahara group firms

New Delhi: The Supreme Court on Thursday set aside a Delhi High Court order staying a Serious Fraud Investigation Office (SFIO) probe into nine companies related to the Sahara group. While allowing the appeal filed by the SFIO against the high court order, a vacation bench of justices DY Chandrachud and Bela M Trivedi observed that the high court was "not justified" in staying the investigation in the matter. The SFIO, a statutory corporate fraud investigating agency, had filed an appeal in the top court against the December 13, 2021 order of the Delhi High Court staying all subsequent actions and proceedings against the Sahara group chief and others. GOP lists out '8 mega failures' of Modi government in 8 years

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

TERMING it as "eight years of misery, misgovernance, inflation, unemployment and communal polarisation", the Congress Thursday attacked the Modi government on its eighth anniversary.

Addressing a joint press conference here, Congress leaders Randeep Surjewala and Ajay Maken claimed the BJP government has broken all records of "hoodwinking" its own people with fake "jumlas" and slogans during its eight years of rule.

The party said that the promise of "achche din" made to the people by Prime Minister Narendra Modi has turned out to be "achche din" only for the BJP and a select group of crony capitalists whose wealth has increased manifold.

Releasing a booklet in Hindi "8 saal, 8 chhal, BJP Sarkar Viphal (8 years, 8 deceits, BJP government failed)", the party said what was once the fastest growing economy, is now in turmoil thanks to the BJP's 8 years of misgovernance.

"Eight years of BJP rule has seen continuous threats to the sovereignty and security of our country, with China continuing to infiltrate our borders, and the prime minister remaining silent. What happened to the PM's 56" chest and 'laal ankh (red eyes)'," said party media in-charge RS Surjewala.

"While high prices are upsetting the budgets of common people on the one hand, on the other communal fires are flaring and the BJP is trying to benefit politically," he said. The document claimed that 84% Indians have seen reduced incomes and 12 crore people have lost their jobs, even as 60 lakh MSMEs have shut shop with unemployment touching 45-year records, but two-three industrialists have seen their incomes rise by ₹1,000 crore everyday and 142 super rich made gains of ₹30 lakh crore in the last one year during Covid.

Myopic Congress can't see development, says BJP in counter attack

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE day Congress released its report card on "eight mega failures" of Modi government in the last eight years, the ruling BJP claimed the growth rate of the country remained steady throughout the eight years of Modi government at the Centre.

"Today when the world is facing tough times on the economic front, India, just because of the efficient policies of the Modi government, has maintained its growth rate nearly 8.5% against the inflation rate of 7.5%," claimed Dr Sudhanshu Trivedi, BJP MP in Rajya Sabha and party's national spokesperson.

Addressing a press conference at the BJP headquarters here, Trivedi said, "The Congress' middle-aged perpetual youth leader always gets enlightened whenever he goes abroad and suddenly the knowledge which he acquires showers in the party when they start speaking in India."

When the world is facing tough times, India, just because of the policies of the government, has maintained its growth rate nearly 8.5% against the inflation rate of 7.5%

Dr Sudhanshu Trivedi

"One can compare the inflation rate of neighbouring countries, or be it Europe, America or even the county, where he (Rahul Gandhi) went recently, most of them are facing higher inflation rate. But India has more growth rate than the inflation rate," he said, adding that the Congress suffers "political myopia".

Lashing out at the grand old party, Dr Trivedi said: "The Congress under people like Rahul Gandhi is progressively moving towards a stage where it is losing political relevance."

He said Congress leaders, especially Rahul Gandhi, do not see development because of their myopic eyes. 'Development works are delighting the denizens of the country but for them (Congress leaders), developments are unseen. Such is their blurred political vision," he taunted. Upon being asked about the report card of Congress, he said that the BJP will give a befitting reply to the "lies" of Congress soon.

Akhilesh Yadav picks ally Jayant as RS candidate

Javed Ali Khan to be party's third candidate for the upper house

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE political alliance between the Samajwadi Party (SP) and the Rashtriya Lok Dal (RLD) was cemented further on Thursday with the announcement of the name of RLD chief Jayant Chaudhary as SP-RLD joint candidate for the upcoming Rajya Sabha polls.

The announcement has laid to rest speculations about the candidature of Akhilesh Yadav's wife and former Lok Sabha member from Kannauj, Dimple Yadav. However, sources say the party is contemplating to field her from Azamgarh parliamentary constituency, the seat vacated by Akhilesh after he got elected from Karhal in 2022 Assembly polls.

The bypoll for Azamgarh and Rampur, the seat vacated by Azam Khan, will take place on June 23. Azamgarh has been an SP stronghold. Before Akhilesh, it was represented in Lok Sabha by SP patriarch Mulayam Singh Yadav.

With Jayant's candidature, Akhilesh has stuck to the decision taken during the UP Assembly elections, and the promise purportedly made to the RLD leader by him.

The announcement came a day after former Congress leader Kapil Sibal filed his nomination papers for Rajya Sabha as an independent candidate backed by the SP. Javed Ali Khan has been chosen as the party's third candidate for the upper house.

SP and RLD have been allies since 2019 Lok Sabha elections and continued their tie-up in the recent Assembly elections. Political pundits say the latest move will not only strengthen their ties for the 2024 general elections, but would also restrain Jayant from gravitating towards the BJP if the saffron brigade tries to woo him.

With 273 MLAs in the UP Assembly, the BJP-led NDA will easily get seven members elected to the Rajya Sabha, while SP and its allies (RLD and SBSP), with a strength of 125 legislators, will be able to ensure the victory of three candidates, thus making the picture clear for 10 of the 11 seats that will be vacated in July. There could be a possible contest on the 11th seat as BJP will need 15 more votes while SP will need 21 more votes to ensure victory of their respective candidate if voting for the 11th seat takes place. In this scenario , the second preference votes will come into play in which the BJP seems to have an edge.

GYANVAPI CASE

Varanasi court hears AIM's plea, defers case for May 30

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Lucknow

AFTER hearing the plea of Anjuman Intezamia Masajid (AIM), challenging the maintainability of the petition filed by five women, seeking right to daily worship of deities inside Gyanvapi mosque premises, the Varanasi district court, on Thursday, adjourned the hearing and scheduled it for May 30. The AIM has been seeking dismissal of the Hindu petitioners' suit claiming it was against the Places of Worship Act-1991 which protected the status of all religious structures.

The Muslim side has claimed that neither the right to worship could be awarded to Hindu parties nor a survey could be conducted inside the mosque.

During the hearing, only petitioners, lawyers and defendants were allowed inside the court premises.

The AIM while making submission in support of their petition said that the suit by the Hindu side was non-maintainable and should be rejected under Order 7 Rule 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure (CPC). It also objected to the alleged rumours being spread about the 'Shivaling' found in the wuzu Khana to invoke religious sentiments of people.

However, advocate Vishnu Shankar Jain, arguing for the Hindu women, said that the Muslims just claimed that the petition was not maintainable. "We interjected and pointed out to the court that we have specific rights," said Jain.

Priyanka's tongue lashing of spiritual guru

At the Congress Chintan Shivir, Acharya Pramod Krishnam, a Priyanka Gandhi protégé, had created quite a stir by saying that if Rahul Gandhi is not interested in being party chief, why not appoint Priyanka. A furious Vadra signalled to Deepender Hooda to silence Krishnam and even Mallikarjun Kharge pitched in, telling the self-styled guru that junior members were not expected to speak out of turn. Later, she gave the guru a tongue lashing in front of delegates and accused him of describing himself as her political adviser. While the Ashok Gehlot camp is said to be delighted by his apparent demotion, the Sachin Pilot camp is quite disappointed as the Acharya has often supported Pilot.

Tallest Chambal Mata statue in Kota

The world's tallest statue of Chambal Mata will be installed on the Chambal River Front (in pic), in order to propel Kota, India's 'educational coaching capital', into a world-class tourist destination. The height of this statue will be 256 feet and will weigh around 1,500 tonnes. This statue will be made with marble from Vietnam. The cost of the statue will come to about 26 crore. The work of its construction has been started by worshipping the statue's Charan Paduka at the place where this statue will be installed on the Chambal River Front. It is being claimed that this will give Kota a special recognition in the field of tourism. This is said to be a dream project of local MLA and UDH Minister Shanti Dhariwal.

RJD's Lalu nominates daughter Misa, ex-MLA Faiyaz Ahmad for RS

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

THE Rashtriya Janata Dal on Thursday announced party chief Lalu Prasad's daughter, Misa Bharti, and former MLA Dr Faiyaz Ahmad as the party candidates for the upcoming elections to the Rajya Sabha, keeping its focus on its traditional Muslim-Yadav vote bank.

In 2016, Lalu had sent Misa to Rajya Sabha for the first time after she was defeated in the 2014 Lok Sabha election by the party rebel Ram Kripal Yadav from Patliputra constituency.

On the other hand, Ahmad is a Ph.D. holder who is known for his financial clout. He runs several educational institutes in the state. He was defeated in the 2020 Bihar Assembly election by BJP candidate Hari Bhushan Thakur from Bisfi constituency in Madhubani district. He had earlier won Assembly elections for two consecutive terms from the constituency. Both the candidates will file their nominations on Friday.

RJD announced its candidates within 24 hours of party chief Lalu Prasad reaching Patna. Other state parties are yet to announce their candidates for the Rajya Sabha elections to be held on June 10. The last date of filing the nomination papers is May 31. Supporters of Hina Shahab, wife of former RJD MP Mohammed Shahabudin, had put up a poster in front of the residence of Lalu's wife and former chief minister Rabri Devi, demanding that Hina be nominated to RS.

For the five seats going to elections, BJP and RJD can send two candidates each while JD-U can send only one. Meanwhile, the fate of union minister and former JD-U president RCP Singh continues to hang in balance as chief minister and party leader Nitish Kumar is yet to take a final call on it.

Sixth Rajya Sabha seat spices up race in Maharashtra

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

INDEPENDENT MLAs will decide the fate of the sixth candidate in the Rajya Sabha polls from Maharashtra.

Of the six seats from the state, BJP will get two seats while Shiv Sena, Congress and NCP can get one each. The Sena and BJP have extra votes, therefore, they have decided to field an additional candidate.

Sena's Sanjay Raut and Sanjay Pawar filed their papers on Thursday. To get elected to the sixth seat, both parties need the support of independent MLAs. Deputy CM Ajit Pawar hinted at a contest for the sixth seat, saying party MLAs would have to vote as per the whip of the party, but Independents were not bound by the rule.

NCP and Congress have extra votes that should go to Pawar. But he also has to get some votes of Independents. If BJP woos the latter, things will be tough for Pawar. Though BJP has not opened its cards, state chief Chandrakant Patil has hinted at fielding the sixth candidate. Sambhaji Maharaj, who had declared himself as an independent, is yet to file his papers.

'BJP, CONG PLAYING FRIENDLY MATCHES': BJP VETERAN JOINS AAP

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

JAGMAL Vala, a prominent BJP leader from the religious hub Somnath in Junagadh district joined the Aam Aadmi Party on Thursday. Vala had met Arvind Kejriwal in Delhi a few days ago.

AAP's women wing chief Gauri Desai and founding member Kishore Desai welcomed Vala to the party.

Vala told the media that he had joined Janata Dal in 1990 and had helped it to win the Somnath assembly seat. After the Janata Dal's merger with the Congress, he switched to BJP. After two decades, he contested as an independent in 2012 and got around 25,000 votes.

"Ever since I heard Delhi's Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal ji's speeches, I have come to believe that only he can build India as the best country in the world," said Vala.

On the Congress, he said the party was nowhere to be seen at the national level. "The BJP and Congress are playing friendly matches. No party cares about the people at all. The BJP's slogan of 'sab ka vikas' (development for all) is meant only for their leaders," said Vala.

Teen married off to older woman, father files plaint

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

A man in Singrauli district of Madhya Pradesh has approached the State Commission for Protection of Child Rights (SCPCR) alleging that his teenage son has been forcibly married to a 32-year-old, thrice married woman.

SCPCR member Brajesh Chouhan said it was the first time such a case had come up before the panel. "We have written to the state Women and Child Development (WCD) department to get the illegal marriage nullified. The Singrauli district collector and SP too were informed about it on May 24. They have been directed to act in the matter and submit a report to the commission within a week," said Chouhan.

The complainant is a daily wager who has alleged that his illiterate son in Khutar village was married off at the behest of the outgoing village sarpanch.

The woman, who has been married thrice in the past, is untraceable along with the teenager since the forced wedlock around a week back.

C'garh Speaker's MP wife puts paid to his RS ambition

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

CHHATTISGARH Speaker Charandas Mahant's wish to enter Rajya Sabha (RS) has been dashed by none other than his wife and Lok Sabha MP from Korba, Jyotsna Mahant. This is despite the fact that the ruling Congress is yet to decide its candidates.

The tenure of two Rajya Sabha members from the state — one each from Congress and BJP — will end next month. Mahant has been vocal in his demand for a berth in the Upper House.

Going by the strength of the Congress MLAs, 71 in the 90-member House, both the seats are likely to go to Congress from Chhattisgarh.

"As of now the Speaker will not be aspiring for Rajya Sabha. He will continue serving in Chhattisgarh," said Jyotsna, while acknowledging that her husband wants to enter the RS.

Mahant responded by saying that since his wife had already expressed her opinion, he was now out of the race for the Rajya Sabha polls.

Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel recently said the party high command would decide who would contest the Rajya Sabha polls.

Fiercest battle rages in east, says Ukraine

4 die in Donetsk shelling, another 4 in Kharkiv; Moscow accuses West of stopping grain-carrying vessels

KYIV

UKRAINE said on Thursday the war in the east of the country had hit its fiercest level yet as it urged Western allies to match words with support against invading Russian forces. Moscow's troops are pushing into the industrial Donbas region after failing to take the capital Kyiv, closing in on several urban centres including the strategically located Severodonetsk and Lysychansk.

Russian forces also shelled Ukraine's second city Kharkiv, killing four people, after Moscow's efforts to capture the north-eastern hub were repelled by heavy battles early in the war. Kyiv called on the West to urgently supply more heavy weapons for its outgunned forces. "The fighting has reached its maximum intensity," Ukraine's Deputy Defence Minister Ganna Malyar told a press briefing about the battles in the east.

Pro-Moscow separatist groups have controlled parts of Donbas, the industrial basin comprising Donetsk and Lugansk regions, since 2014 but Russia now appears set on taking the whole region.

Lugansk regional governor Sergiy Gaiday said that "heavy" Russian bombardments on Lysychansk had done extensive damage to civilian infrastructure, including a humanitarian aid centre.

Three people died in recent Russian attacks on Severodonetsk and Lysychansk, which stand on the crucial route to Ukraine's eastern administrative centre in Kramatorsk, Gaiday said.

Four civilians were killed in shelling in the Donetsk region around Kramatorsk, the Ukrainian presidency said. Fresh shelling around Kharkiv in the north-east killed another four people, with officials warning residents to take to air raid shelters.

"The occupiers are again shelling the regional centre," the governor of the Kharkiv region, Oleg Sinegubov, said on Telegram. Russia's rationale of a "special military operation" to "demilitarise and de-Nazify" Ukraine draws a snort of derision in one village near Kharkiv. "Show me one Nazi in the village! We have our nation, we are nationalists but not Nazis nor fascists," says retired nurse Larysa Kosynets. As the toll mounted, Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy called on the West to add to the billions of dollars in weaponry it has already poured in, and blasted suggestions a negotiated peace could include territorial concessions.

Meanwhile, the Kremlin on Thursday accused Western countries of stopping grain-carrying vessels from leaving ports in Ukraine, rejecting accusations that Russia was to blame. "We accuse Western countries of taking a number of illegal actions that have led to this blockade," Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov told reporters.

The Russian central bank cut its key interest rate to 11% from 14% following an emergency meeting, as authorities sought to rein in the ruble which has surged in value despite the conflict. AFP

Police face questions over delay in storming school to stop gunman

UVALDE

LAW enforcement authorities faced questions and criticism Thursday over how much time elapsed before they stormed an Uvalde elementary school classroom and put a stop to the rampage by a gunman who killed 19 children and two teachers.

Investigators were also unable to say with any certainty whether an armed school district security officer outside Robb Elementary exchanged fire with the attacker, 18-year-old Salvador Ramos, when he first arrived on Tuesday. The motive for the rampage — the nation's deadliest school shooting since Newtown, Connecticut, a decade ago — remained under investigation, with authorities saying Ramos had no known criminal or mental health history. During the siege, which ended when a Border Patrol team burst in and shot Ramo to death, frustrated onlookers urged police officers to charge into the school, according to witnesses.

"Go in there! Go in there!" women shouted at the officers soon after the attack began, said Juan Carranza, 24, who watched the scene from outside his house, across the street from the school.

Texas Department of Public Safety Director Steve McCraw said on Wednesday that 40 minutes to an hour elapsed from when Ramos opened fire on the school security officer to when the tactical team shot him.

But a department spokesman said later that authorities could not give a solid estimate of how long the gunman was in the school. AP

Government to float EoI for IDBI Bank by June-end

Currently, it enjoys certain relaxations being a state-run bank

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE government will float an expression of interest (EoI) by June-end for IDBI Bank privatisation after addressing investors' concerns regarding compliance with the regulations laid down for private banks. Currently, the bank enjoys certain relaxations being a state-run bank.

After privatisation, the compliance burden will increase , as per sources.

"The investors have raised some concerns with us related to regulations laid down by Securities Exchange Board of India(SEBI) and the Reserve Bank of India for private bank. We will take these issues before them and try to make the deal attractive for the bidders," a top government source told TNIE.

Currently, the government is holding road shows to assess the interest for privatisation of IDBI bank and as per sources, the Centre is getting good response from instituutional investors.

"As per RBI rules, the promoter has to maintain a minimum shareholding in the private bank for a certain period. The promoter would not like to pare its shareholding for initial three years at least. So the investors need some exemptions for such norms. Similarly, there are some rules in SEBI which may come in conflict with RBI norms. So we need to make a synergy between both the compliance norms," the source stated. As per the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) rules, promoters can have a minimum stake of 40 per cent of the paid-up voting equity share capital of the private bankfor the first five years. The government and Life Insurance Corporation together hold 95% stake in IDBI. The Centre had announced its disinvestment plans for IDBI bank in February 2021. It was hoping to complete the privatisation by March 2022.

Meanwhile, the Centre is also expecting to complete the strategic disinvestment in Bharat Earth Movers Ltd (BEML). It hopes to raise ₹800-₹1,000 crore by offloading 26% stake in BEML. According to sources, the Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) is looking into the demerger scheme of non-core assets of BEML.

Coal India to divest 25% stake in BCCL

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

COAL INDIA LIMITED (CIL), India's largest coal producer, on Thursday said it is planning to divest 25% stake in its unlisted arm Bharat Coking Coal Ltd (BCCL).

The company said once it gets clearance from the government on this proposal, it will go for the subsequent listing of the subsidiary on stock exchanges.

"As advised by MoC (Ministry of Coal), CIL Board in its 438th meeting held on March 10, 2022, had accorded its 'in-principle' approval to divest 25% of paid-up share capital of BCCL held by CIL and its subsequent listing on stock exchanges and advised to forward the proposal to Ministry of Coal for obtaining further clearances," Coal India said in an exchange filing.

The company further said once it receives further clearance from MoC (Ministry of Coal) the proposal would be placed to Coal India board and the decision of the board would be promptly disseminated to the exchange. BCCL is a public sector undertaking, which was incorporated in January 1972 to operate coking coal mines operating in the Jharia and Raniganj Coalfields. In this fiscal (FY2021-22), the company reported a production of 24.66 million tonnes, as compared to the target of 37.13 million tonnes and off-take of 23.13 million tonnes as compared to the target of 37.13 million tonnes. Simillary, the net turnover of the company during FY'21 was ₹6,149.81 crore as compared to the previous year turnover of ₹8,967.56 crore.

Coal India accounts for over 80% of domestic coal output. The company witnessed a 46% growth in its consolidated net profit to ₹6,693 crore in the fourth ended 31 March 2022. CIL's production was 622.63 million tonnes in the financial year 2021-22, up from 596.22 million tonnes in the previous financial year.

FAKE ONLINE REVIEWS UNDER GOVT SCANNER

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

FAKE reviews on e-commerce websites have come under the government's radar.

The Department of Consumer Affairs (DoCA), along with Advertising Standards Council of India (ASCI), will hold a virtual meeting on Friday to gauge the magnitude of fake reviews on such platforms, which 'mislead consumers into buying online services or products'.

The Ministry of Consumer Affairs, Food & Public Distribution in a statement on Thursday said DoCA secretary Rohit Kumar Singh has written to all stakeholders, including e-commerce entities such as Flipkart, Amazon, Tata Sons, Reliance Retail besides, consumer forums, FICCI, CII etc to participate in the meeting and prepare a road map ahead. "The discussions will be based on the impact of fake and misleading reviews on consumers and possible measures to prevent such anomaly," the statement said. Singh in the letter said, "It is relevant to mention that with growing internet and smartphone use, consumers are increasingly shopping online to purchase goods and services. Given that e-commerce involves a virtual shopping experience without any opportunity to physically view or examine the product, consumers rely on reviews posted on e-commerce platforms to see opinion and experience of users who have already purchased the goods or service."

"As a result, due to fake and misleading reviews, the right to be informed, which is a consumer right under the Consumer Protection Act, 2019 is violated," Singh added.

No forcible 'recovery' of tax, GST dept to officers

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AFTER multiple cases of use of force and coercion by tax officers came to the fore, the goods & services tax (GST) department has barred officials from recovery of unpaid taxes during the course of search or inspection unless voluntarily done so by the taxpayers.

In an internal department note addressed to principal commissioners/commissioners of Central GST (all zones), the commissioner, GST Investigation, has said that there may not be any circumstances necessitating recovery of tax dues during the course of search or inspection or investigation proceedings.

The note further says that if taxpayers make any complaint against a tax officer for use of coercion or force to get any amount of tax deposited during a raid, strict disciplinary action will be taken against such a tax officer.

The note, however, clarifies that a taxpayer can voluntarily make payments of tax liabilities ascertained by him or when apprised by tax officers during or after the course of raids by following due legal proceedings.

As per the GST law, a taxpayer can voluntarily pay unpaid taxes or in response to the show-cause notice raised by the GST department by filing the voluntary tax payment form DRC-03.

This instruction by the GST department to its tax officer is significant given the rise in the number of cases of harassment by GST officers who resort to violence against taxpayers to recover unpaid taxes during raids.

Gujarat and Telangana high courts have taken cognisance of such matters in the past and asked GST officials to refrain from using violence and coercive methods against taxpayers.

Infosys CEO's salary up 88% to ₹79.75 crore

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

IT major Infosys CEO and MD Salil Parekh would get an 88% hike in salary in 2022-23 after the company recommended a revised compensation structure.

Under the revised structure, Parekh's salary would increase from ₹42.50 crore to ₹79.75 crore. Nearly 97% of the increase in Parekh's proposed remuneration is linked to performance.

In FY 22, Parekh received ₹71.02 crore in remuneration, which include ₹52.33 crore pertaining to exercise of restricted stock units (RSUs). The FY22 remuneration is 43% more than ₹49.68 crore he took home in FY21. His remuneration is the highest when compared to the country's largest IT firm TCS' CEO Rajesh Gopinathan's ₹26 crore compensation in FY22.

Parekh was first appointed as the CEO and MD of the company on January 2, 2018. Recently, the second-largest IT services company announced the reappointment of Parekh, 57, from July 2022 to March 2027. In the annual report, Infosys said Parekh demonstrated successful business and overall performance since his appointment. "The company competes with global peers, particularly in North America and Europe, with almost 87% of the revenue coming from these geographies, and therefore, Salil's remuneration has to be determined keeping in view global benchmarks. Salil's proposed total target remuneration vis-a-vis the remuneration most recently paid to CEOs of peers would be around the median," the report said.

Under his leadership, Infosys' total shareholder return (TSR) was 314%. Its market capitalisation increased during his tenure by nearly ₹5,77,000 crore. During the preceding four-year period, prior to the appointment of Parekh, Infosys' TSR was 30% as compared to the peers' median TSR of 47%. The company also saw an increase in the number of $100 million clients from 20 in fiscal 2018 to 38 in fiscal 2022.

During his tenure, the total number of employees increased from 2,04,107 to 3,14, 015. Infosys COO UB Pravin Rao, who retired in December 2021, took home ₹37.25 crore in FY22.

The company's chairman Nandan M Nilekani, who has 0.97% shareholding in the company, voluntarily chose not to receive any remuneration for his services.

Jet Airways staff association challenges resolution plan

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AS Jet Airways is in the final stage to recommence its commercial operations, All India Jet Airways' Officers and Staff Association on Thursday said it has filed an appeal before the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) against the Jalan-Kalrock consortium's resolution plan for the airline.

"The resolution plan is contingent on many hypotheticals about the use of crucial assets of the former Jet Airways, including its property, flight slots, and most importantly, its workers and employees," the association's President Kiran Pawaskar said in a statement.

In its petition before the NCLAT, the association has asked for complete payments of the gratuity, unpaid wages, privilege leave encashment, bonus from April 2018 to June 2019 and retrenchment compensation to all workers and employees.

It has demanded that any employee re-hired by the resolution applicant or the monitoring committee are paid their gratuity, unpaid wages, privilege leave encashment, bonus and retrenchment compensation as per their entitlements and that any signed document for the waiver/forfeiture of these amounts not be enforced against them. The plan submitted by the consortium of UK's Kalrock Capital and UAE-based entrepreneur Murari Lal Jalan was cleared by the Mumbai bench of the NCLT in June 2021. Since the approval, many former staff had approached the labour department over non-payment of gratuity and other dues. Various associations such as BKS and Jet Airways Cabin Crew Association had also filed an appeal before the NCLAT last month against the NCLT order.

Singapore-based Singtel to sell 2-4% Airtel stake to Sunil Mittal

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

SINGAPORE-BASED telecom firm Singtel is in talks with Bharti Airtel chairman Sunil Mittal to sell 2-4% of its stake in Bharti Airtel.

Following the deal, Singtel, a major stakeholder and a promoter company of Bharti Airtel will be able to generate close to ₹7,500 crore on sale of its 2% stake, as per market capitalisation. However, as per the reports, the exact details of the transactions haven't been worked out yet. Singtel's stake in Airtel is 31.7% and it holds a 49.44% stake in Mittal family-owned firm Bharti Telecom. The market cap of Bharti Airtel is ₹3.78 lakh crore.

If Singtel sells shares worth $1 billion, it would reduce Singtel's holding by close to 2% to less than 30%, while divesting shares worth $2 billion would reduce Singtel's holding by 4%. Airtel reported a net income of ₹2,008 crore in Q4FY22, a year-on-year growth of 164.5%. The surge in net profit was driven by an exceptional gain of ₹906 crore and spurt in ARPU.

Swiss-based Holcim signed a binding agreement for the Adani Group to acquire its business in India, comprising 63.11% stake in Ambuja Cement, which owns a 50.05% interest in ACC, as well as its 4.48% direct stake in ACC for ₹50,200 crore. In a concall with investors, Holcim indicated that the deal is subject to CCI (Competition Commission Of India) approval and is confident that the deal will be completed in the early part of H2FY23. This deal will not entail any capital gain tax on the part of the Holcim.

Stock markets stage smart recovery on expiry day

RAM SAHGAL @Mumbai

STOCK markets rebounded smartly from their lows on expiry of the May series of derivatives contracts and analysts anticipate a short-term bounce with foreign investors covering their short index futures — Nifty and Bank Nifty — positions.

The Nifty rebounded 266 points from the day's low to close up 0.9% at 16,170.15. The Sensex also bounced 827 points off the day's low to close up 0.94% at 54,252.53 points .

"It's probable that shorts closed out their positions and we could expect some further short covering , going forward," said Siddarth Bhamre , research head of Religare Broking. To be sure , FIIs sold a provisional ₹1,598 crore worth shares in the cash market. However, technical experts like Rohit Srivastava of IndiaCharts, expect they could have covered their short index futures positions . Covering of short derivatives positions involves buying them back, which reflects in their cumulative index futures' positions.

On Nifty , the range for the June series is 16,000-16,500. On Bank Nifty, the range is 35,000-35,500. On Wednesday FIIs' cumulative shorts on Nifty and Bank Nifty futures were 32907 contracts . Analysts expect this to have reduced further on Thursday .

Batra says he is prez, Khanna says 'I am acting president'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

THE fight within the Indian Olympic Association is only getting worse, especially after the Delhi HC order on Hockey India's violation of sports code and subsequent appointment of Committee of Administrators. Even though Narinder Batra claimed he continues to be the president, senior vice president Anil Khanna citing court order said Batra's tenure has come to end with immediate effect from May 25, 2022. Khanna is siding with secretary general Rajeev Mehta and treasurer Anandeshwar Pandey.

In an e-mail written to the IOA members, Khanna said the order pronounced by the court on Wednesday on a petition filed by hockey Olympian Aslam Sher Khan. Mentioning a paragraph from the order, which reads, 'The illegal post of Life President or Life Member cannot be the stepping stone for any other position or benefit elsewhere, be it nationally (including in the Indian Olympic Association) or in international bodies', he said R-2 is Narinder Batra. Batra had in a message to IOA members claimed that he is not holding the position of IOA president by virtue of him being a Life Member of the Hockey India. Calling it an incorrect statement, Khanna wrote, "As per IOA Constitution and Election Bye-Laws, representatives nominated by each voting unit must be members of the Executive Bodies of such units to be part of the Electoral College. Mr. Batra was part of the Electoral College in 2017 and his name appeared in S.No 43 of the Electoral College. In 2017, Mr. Batra ceased to be President of Hockey India and was not a member of the Executive Committee of Hockey India..."

No exception for sports code

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

THERE is no respite for National Sports Federations (NSFs) and even the sports ministry. The first one for violating the sports code, and the other for overlooking violations and continuing to recognise them. After the All India Football Federation (AIFF) and Hockey India (HI), there is a possibility more NSFs could face the flak from the Delhi High Court for non-compliance with National Sports Development Code of India (2011). On Thursday, the division bench of Najmi Waziri and Vikas Mahajan directed the sports ministry to ensure all NSFs follow the sports code or take action and file a compliance report by the next hearing on June 2. And also, there should be no exemption for any federation.

This was in response to a petition filed by senior advocate and sports specialist Rahul Mehra in 2020 when the sports ministry extended recognition to NSFs despite failing to adhere to the sports code. According to Mehra, who approached the Delhi High Court on the sports ministry granting NSFs recognition despite not adhering to Sports Code in letter and spirit, the court wanted to sanction all NSFs.

"That would complicate matters and I suggested to the honourable court to seek a compliance report from the sports ministry and then act accordingly," said Mehra.

The court was miffed that despite its January 2021 order that asked the sports ministry to closely monitor and follow NSFs' compliance with sports code, nothing much has moved forward.

Meghana shows mettle on big stage

GOMESH S @ Chennai

"HAR team mein sirf ek hi gunda ho sakta hai, aur is team ka gunda main hoon." That famous Shahrukh Khan dialogue from 'Chak de India' was all Sabbineni Meghana had to say in the Trailblazers dressing room video shared by the official IPL handle in the lead-up to the ongoing Women's T20 Challenge.

But when she did not start in the first match, it left everyone with so many questions. After all, it was a three-team, four-match tournament. Having lost their first match, the Smriti Mandhana-led side was under the pump as they took the field in a must-win game against Velocity at the MCA Stadium in Pune on Thursday.

Brief scores: Trailblazers 190/5 in 20 ovs (Meghana 73, Rodrigues 66; Bahadur 2/31) lost to Velocity 174/9 in 20 ovs (Navgire 69; Gayakwad 2/44).

Rajat put his marriage on hold after late call from RCB

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

RAJAT Patidar played a blistering knock of an unbeaten 54-ball 112 in Kolkata on Wednesday against Lucknow Super Giants, helping Royal Challengers Bangalore to fix a date with Rajasthan Royals in the Qualifier 2. But, it was not what he and his family had expected to happen in May after Rajat went unsold in the IPL mega auction earlier in February.

With no major cricketing events scheduled in the country during the Indian Premier League (IPL), Patidar's family wanted to make use of the break he got from cricket and get him married.

"We have chosen a girl from Ratlam for him. The plan was to get him married on May 9. It was supposed to be a small function and I had booked a hotel too in Indore," Manohar Patidar, Rajat's father, told this daily. However, destiny had something else in store for Rajat and his family as injury had ruled out Luvnith Sisodia from the tournament, making the 2016 finalists to sign Rajat as his replacement. And the 28-year-old right-hand batter from Madhya Pradesh didn't disappoint. He stood up for them when it mattered the most, becoming the first uncapped player in the history of the tournament to score a century in the play-offs.

Earlier, the family had planned Rajat's wedding in the beginning of winter, around Diwali, expecting him to be picked in the IPL. But as he didn't find a buyer, a decision was made to solemnise the marriage in May. "The marriage was not supposed to be a grand affair, so we didn't get invitation cards printed. I have booked a hotel for limited guests but the booking has been advanced as we plan to hold the function in July once he is free from his responsibility with the Madhya Pradesh Ranji team," the father added.

Sreeshankar claims long jump gold

NEW DELHI: India's long jumper M Sreeshankar won the gold medal at the 12th International Jumping Meeting in Kallithea, Greece with an effort of 8.31m. He is the current national record holder with a jump of 8.36m, which he had achieved last month. Sreeshankar was followed by Swede Thobias Montler, who claimed silver with an 8.27m jump, and Jules Pommery of France.

India win big, deny Pakistan WC shot

Chennai: Pakistan drove forward at every available opportunity. They needed one more goal to give themselves a shot at qualifying for the World Cup next year. They carved Japan open multiple times but just couldn't find the goal that would have levelled the match. Instead, they lost 2-3. Two hours later, India poured forward at every available opportunity. They were leading 10-0 and eventually went on to secure 16-0 victory.

Praggnanandhaa one point behind Liren

CHENNAI: China's Ding Liren seized the advantage against India's GM R Praggnanandhaa in the final of Meltwater Champions Chess Tour Chessable Masters online tournament, taking a 2.5-1.5 lead after the opening day of the match Thursday. The 16-year old, who lost the opening game of the all-Asian final, bounced back strongly to level the first match when he won game two.

Final call for boarding

Rajasthan Royals and Royal Challengers Bangalore, face each other in the second qualifier in Ahmedabad. A look...

Buttler's approach

Jos Buttler's approach this year has been to build slowly, let others to do the hitting before exploding at the back end. On a fresh surface, this idea cost them a few extra runs. On another fresh surface, could there be a rethink?

RCB's top-order

For all of Dinesh Karthik's blitz at the death, Bangalore have often relied on their top-three to set games up. With Karthik given a specific entry point and Glenn Maxwell in a middle of a rut, their top-order may prefer to see of Trent Boult's first two overs.

Hasaranga vs Chahal

The winner of the battle between the top two in the wicket-takers' list could go some way in deciding the contest. Yuzvendra Chahal will already be licking his lips as Bangalore have no established lefties that can target him. On the other end, Hasaranga will have to contend with both Devdutt Padikkal & Shimron Hetmyer.

RR batters vs Patel

The wickets haven't come this season but Harshal has been a revelation in terms of his variety at the back end. For somebody who predominantly bowls in the back end, his economy rate of 7.56 for the season is a joke. One to keep an eye on.
